VINIFICATION

In the beginning of October, early in the morning, the grapes were hand harvested in boxes and in the wine cellar selected again. Grape seeds were softly separated from the steam and poured into the traditional clay pitcher in the volume of 800 - 900 litres. Natural yeast fermentation was carried out at the temperature of 20 - 22 ° C. During fermentation all procedures were carried out by hand in order to avoid interference of mechanical instruments and give the wine more natural character and elegance. Further fermentation was carried out in the stainless still tanks. The wine was bottled in 0.75 l bottles were it continues ageing process.
